

Policy on booking the woods for events

Stroudwoods is collectively owned by 70 shareholders and their families. These members have paid a substantial sum in order to have part membership of the woods and to be able to book them for their own public or private events.

Members can book the woods for non-commercial events and are invited to offer a donation, particularly where an event may inhibit other members' free access to the woods.

Members who wish to offer commercial events in the woods need to ask permission from the directors at least 30 days before the event, and must provide a suitable risk assessment for the activity at least 7 days prior to the event as well as an offer of a financial contribution to Stroudwoods for the use of the space.

Non-members cannot book the woods for commercial or non-commercial events.
